WELL SEES ANSWER TO STUART

Perfectly Satisfied With Election Judges, He Says: No Changes.

Answer to F. B. Stuart's letter to the editor relative to a division of election judges between the two city tickets has been sent to Mr. Stuart, signed by Mayor C. E. Kelly. The answer says the mayor has no intention of removing any of the ring judges and that he knows nothing about anybody being under indictment for selling votes; that he never told a grand juror to serve for his sake; that he does not need help on the grand jury and never expects to need it; that the election fraud contest last year was decided in favor of the city and that if the opposition has anything more of interest on election fraud, it should put the information in the hands of the grand jury. The letter says:

"As I gather from a reading of your letter, you do not contend that, as mayor, I am the chief of El Paso, have any authority to remove the election officers who have been appointed, or to substitute others of your choosing or of the choosing of the independent candidates for various city offices at the election to be held on Tuesday, April 8. You simply assume that, upon a request made by me, in good faith, any judge heretofore appointed would resign, that one of your choosing or the choice of those whom you are supporting might be appointed.

"Those who have been appointed as judges of the election to be held on April 8 were appointed by the mayor pro tem during my absence in Austin. I had nothing whatever to do with the appointment of these various judges. However, the appointments seem to me to be excellent ones and I know of no reason for asking them to resign. I have been able to get the appointments legally made, and I would not exercise the power if I had it.

"No Republican Wail.
"As to the suggestion that the election officers might have been selected from the Republican party, I need only say that there has not been a Republican party ticket in a municipal election in El Paso for more than 10 years. The Republicans are not complaining of any failure to give them representation in the election; they have no ticket in the field and it would be difficult to see just how the Republican party could object to the selection made in any event. It has not objected. No other organized party has a ticket in the field; none has asked for representation; therefore it is assumed none wants any representation. You, of course, understand that the independent candidates are, by law and in fact, merely independent candidates and not members of a party and not entitled to recognition as such.

Election Contest.

"You say the election contest of last year showed that more than 50 violations of the election law had taken place. I challenge you to produce a statement by pointing out that it is not true. As the election contest was decided in favor of the contest by the executive committee, and as the only case tried in the district court was decided in favor of the contest by Judge Douglas, and as I have personal knowledge as to the transaction, I am in no position to assert or deny the legality of the election, but must assume that the court and committee did their duty. If you have the proof of these violations of the law, as you say you have, do you think that your duty as a citizen requires you to submit to the grand jury? You certainly have my permission to do so.

"Grand Jury Incident.
"You ask why I stood on the outside of the door of the district court room when the last grand jury was being organized by Judge Isaac. That's easy. I didn't do it. You know that I didn't do it when you asked the question, or were you misinformed? You also ask why I indicated to the grand jury that I intended to appear and act, if qualified, as a grand juror, serving as such, stating, in substance, that I could not claim my exemption, as you expressed his intention of doing, but I will not state the grand jury for my sake and to help me. The answer to that is not far to seek. It's false. Did you know it when you made the charge, or were you misinformed? I have never needed any help before a grand jury and I never intend to need any. Can those who are criticizing my advice in this matter say as much?

"As to the causes you mention which are now pending in which the city is the defendant, I have only to say that I know nothing of the transactions; do not know whether they are true or untrue; do not know if I am able to recall, never knew of the existence of the indictments until I read in the morning paper that they were made for me. If they are true, I have no interest in them, whether they are true or untrue. I have no knowledge of when they were arrested, whether they should have been arrested sooner than they were or could have been.

His Final Proposition.

"To terminate this correspondence now, and so far as the appointment of judges is concerned, I will make no request of any election officer for the benefit of the independent candidates except upon the following conditions: "If you and the independent candidates will desist from making any charge to be wanting in sufficient intelligence or integrity to properly conduct the election of April 8, this case will be immediately investigated; and if, in the judgment of three men (one of these two), your charge is well founded, I will, with you in the use of any lawful means you may suggest to secure the man's removal and the appointment for him of one whose appointment will be entirely satisfactory to you."

STEEVER RETIRED BY POLITICIANS

San Antonio Politicians Said to Be Largely Responsible for Action. Army politicians have succeeded and Gen. Edgar S. Steever is now officially retired from active service in the army after 32 years of hard work. The order for the general's retirement, "on account of defective eyesight," came Wednesday afternoon and was dated March 22, 1913. Steever was born in 1855, in the middle west. No successor has been named as far as known to take Gen. Steever's place. The general's eyesight, it is said, was so bad that he was unable to take the general's place in the line. Col. Charles A. E. Hatt, field of the 12th cavalry, is now in control of the border patrol with headquarters at Fort Bliss.

Gen. Steever is preparing to move downtown and will have apartments for the present until he and Mrs. Steever decide on their future plans. Gen. Steever came here on the train from the Madero revolution in the spring of 1910 as colonel of the Fourth cavalry now in the Hawaiian Islands. Since that time he has been in command of the border patrol as senior ranking officer in the border. He was made a brigadier general a couple of months ago.

"Remember The Alamo" TONIGHT "The Harem Captives"

The story is concerned with the adventure of Fatima and Ourida, two Arabian sisters, although widely different in dispositions. Fatima is beautiful, passionate and petulant, while Ourida combines with a lovely love with Ourida and has won her heart, which kindles the spark of jealousy in Fatima's breast. Rather than see Ourida win the affections of her handsome lover, Fatima bribes a tribe of nomads to kidnap her and her sister. The nomads succeed in carrying off both the willing and unwilling captive before Budlong is aware of the happening. With his Hindoo servant, Arthur follows the trail until it reaches the City of Tunis, where it is lost. The sisters arrive in the city, are sold to a wealthy merchant and accordingly enter his harem. After ceaseless efforts Budlong finally learns of the abode of his beloved and her sister and after a desperate struggle with the guard they rescue the girls. Finding that Fate is against her, Fatima gives vent to her jealous anger, and while the outburst shocks the lovers, they offer to assist her to escape, but she refuses. They hurriedly leave her, to act as principals in a wedding ceremony.

This is a two reel feature (Pathe) and will be shown tonight and tomorrow in addition to a strong regular program.

THINK MISSING BOY IS HELD IN LAS CRUCES

High School Literary Society to Hold a Mock Trial All Court Officers Are Chosen. Las Cruces, N. M., April 2.—A boy, believed to be Willie Phillips, of 608 E. El Paso street, El Paso, was detained here by deputy sheriff Jose Lucero, awaiting the arrival of Mr. Phillips to identify him and escort him home.

Upon arriving here, the boy stopped at Hotel El Paso on Las Cruces and had plenty of money apparently. It was at the hotel that Mrs. C. M. Pool saw the lad and later read of Willie Phillips' disappearance, and telephoned Mrs. Phillips in El Paso. Mrs. Pool took the boy to her home and showed him to her mother and father, showing him guns and other things of interest, while a friend telephoned the deputy sheriff. Although Mrs. Phillips was not able to detain the lad long enough for the sheriff to arrive, she was able to point him out to the sheriff and was arrested over the Holt residence. He gave his name as Fred Anderson. The father is expected here today to take the 11-year old boy home.

The high school literary society will give a "mock trial" in the army Friday afternoon at 2:15. The setting of the trial is the case of an accused against Joseph Turney for placing a brand upon property not belonging to him. This alleged property consists of a trial suit belonging to Jim Cox, and several of the school desks belonging to the board of education of the city of Las Cruces. The prosecution are Patrick Garrett and Kenneth McClaron and Cyril Kennedy. The defense are: Joseph Turney, Ralph Will is clerk of the court, and Clarence Anderson, sheriff. No admission will be charged.

Homer S. Bryant, a draftsman of the reclamation service, has left here for La Mesa where he will be employed in the office of engineer Herbert W. Yoo, who has charge of the topographical work in that section.

Mrs. L. K. Edwards has returned from El Paso, where she spent two days. Mrs. E. J. James arrived home last evening from Albuquerque, where she spent 19 days with her daughter, Miss Helen James, who is in attendance at the University of California.

A sand storm, one of the worst experienced here lately, visited Las Cruces Wednesday afternoon. The Spanish dance held in the army was well attended. Miss Annie Farr and Gregorio Talamantes were married in the Catholic church here.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Hinton, of Cox's army, were married to El Paso. Mrs. C. L. Post has returned from a brief visit in El Paso. P. Moreno, wife and cousin, Mrs. Delgado, went to El Paso this morning.
